Read, watch, chat – self help or direct support – we're here to help.

- ✓ Quick Question topics and focussed Guides for users and administrators.
- ✓ eLearning videos so you can sit back and watch.
- ✓ Instructor led & online training so you can learn and re-learn at your pace
- ✓ UK based Help & Support 24/7

Red Box is committed to technical excellence. Our pro-active help and support teams are there to assist. So whether you need self-help or direct support, we're here 24/7.

Quick Questions

These short, friendly guides provide bite-size product information.

Guides

These focussed guides pull together relevant information from the Quick Question topics – ideal when you need all the information in one place.

eLearning

Prefer video? No problem. Access our library of short eLearning videos to walk you through a range of applications, features, and tasks.

Training

When you need to know it all in one go, sometimes training is best. Red Box provides instructor led and online training courses to support all your staff.

Direct Support

When it's just too difficult, you need direct engineer support. Red Box provide a range of support options, available 24/7.

Learn your way

Flexible learning and support solutions, providing help at all stages of your product lifecycle
